

A celebration of cultures

16 March 2016

The Women's and Children's Health Network celebrates the cultural diversity of its staff, consumers, stakeholders and visitors.

In March, a number of events and activities were held to acknowledge the importance of this diversity as part of a Cultural Diversity Month.

This included cultural lectures, online journal clubs, morning teas, kid's club activities and pledge walls.

WCH CEO Naomi Dwyer took some time out to promote equality and inclusiveness on the hospital's pledge wall.

The events promoted inclusiveness, respect and a sense of belonging for everyone.
