

Five years on, Starlight Express Room continues to shine

5 April 2016

The Starlight Express Room at the Women's and Children's Hospital celebrated five years on Tuesday 5 April.

Rachael Leahcar from The Voice and Thunderbird netballers were among the guests to celebrate the milestone, as well as hospital staff and Starlight Foundation staff and captains.

The Starlight Express Room is a welcome retreat for hospital children and their families, with many fun entertainment options available for children that help to distract them from their health worries.

Many thanks to the Starlight Children's Foundation for the work it does to support children and families, both at the hospital and beyond. Dr Julian White, Head of Toxinology, Women's and Children's Health Network helped to share the message about the dangers of poisonous wild mushrooms through media coverage in April.
